Security Precautions

The Tampa Marine Flea Market or Tampa bay Downs is not responsible for the loss or damage of product(s) before, during, or after the show; including theft. All vendors are required by contract to have insurance for any loss or damage that may occur before, during, or after the market.

The Following are suggested security precautions:

- Remove items that will be left unattended that cannot be secured or are easily stolen.
- Do not indicate the contents on the outside of your cartons or crates. The cartons should be marked by company name and booth number and marked numerically, to deter theft.
- Ship locked or bolted crates only. Avoid using small cartons or cardboard boxes for product shipments.
- Furnish complete and accurate bill of landing(s) to your shipping company.
- Do not store undisplayed product in empty crates, under tables or displays.
- Securely cover or close off your display every night.
- Do not display small, easy to conceal products during move-in and move-out
- Do not leave brief cases, calculators, cameras, cellular phones, etc. in your display. Prototype materials, one of a kind item should always be secured.
- You should cover your display with cloth, tarpaulin, sheets, etc. at the close of the show nightly and remove them at morning show opening. This acts as a psychological deterrent and avoids curiosity seekers.
- Pack securely and label all materials quickly at all times, including move-in and move-out.
- Report any damage or lost cartons/ crates to the show office immediately.
- Issue receipts of products sold at the show
- If you are conducting retail sales, make change from a belt or waist pack.
- Do not leave your exhibit unattended.
